BIG C.P.R. PARK FOR Gleichen

To be One of The Best Between the Oceans

R. D. Prettie, forester to the C.P.R. Co., was in town last Thursday evening sizing up the new Gleichen park and talking over his plans with the secretary of the Board of Trade. Mr. Prettie intimated that his instructions were to see his best judgment in giving Gleichen a good park and he acknowledged that it would be much larger than the Calgary park, and indeed larger and better than any for several hundred miles along the line. He already has about $5,000 to spend on the park and is assured of more when that is spent. While here he went over the ground carefully and arranged to have it graded off where necessary. He decided it should extend from the west end of the station platform to the crossing east and south to the railway fence. The deep cuts just south of the track are to be excavated and made into artificial lakes.

Mr. Prettie stated he had on his staff a man who has been landscape artist for Berlin, Germany, for a number of years and as soon as the land could be put into shape he would have him come here and lay out the park.

Being told that Mr. Gooderham, Indian agent, was talking of extending the park onto Blackfoot Reserve adjoining the railway Mr. Prettie at once volunteered to have the company's landscape artist lay it out for him and we understand he came to such an understanding with Mr. Gooderham.

The undertaking of so extensive a park by the C. P. R. may be taken as an intimation of their intention of building up Gleichen and the people of this town may consider themselves very fortunate indeed to see the company promoting our interests in this way. For the past year in particular the company has shown in every way possible its desire to assist everything that would build up this place and this is only one more instance of the kind.

Mr. Prettie expects to be in Gleichen again this week to see that the work he laid out is carried out properly.

An Englishman's Opinion

An English journalist who travelled through Canada a year ago is credit with the following very reasonable remarks:

It is a fact that Western Canada has been a favorite resort with the unfortunate species that is known throughout greater Britain as the "remittance man." The remittance man is generally a gentleman with a pronounced taste for excess in the consumption of alcoholic stimulants; he is invariably one who, for some reason, is regarded as wholly undesirable by his friends and relatives at home. So he is shipped off to "the colonies" as to an asylum, and granted an allowance for just so long as he remains separated by the ocean from his family. This type of immigrant is of all kinds, perhaps, the least desirable from the Canadian or the colonial standpoint. The weakness, and worse, of his own character damages the mother country to an incalculable extent in the eyes of her strenuous sons overseas. The same qualities in the remittance man damage the colonies in the eyes of untraveled people at home, for the reason that your remittance man is, naturally enough, never happy in the land of his enforced adoption, and that when he has drunk up his quarterly allowance he is apt to devote his time to the composition of a gloomy kind of begging letter home, which paints colonial life in the most dismal colors, as an existence in which the most arduous kind of toil rarely provides a man with adequate food supplies, to say nothing of liquor. Sometimes the receipt of these precious scribbles (usually indited in an hotel bar, by the way) are indiscreet enough to circulate them among friends in England, and in this way the lying poison of them spreads indefinitely, even in these comparatively enlightened days. Now, if my study of Western Canada has taught me any single thing at all, it has positively convinced me that, humanly speaking, it is not possible for an able-bodied man of sane mind to lack profitable employment here, and a fair living, if he is willing to work. A drinker or a loafer may, of course, find himself out of employment anywhere. A man who refuses all kinds of work save one, in a place where that one kind of work is not in demand, may fail to get employment. But I do not think that it is possible for an honest man who is ready to turn his hand to any work to fail to find it in Western Canada and that at a really good wage. It may be taken, I am assured, that the man whose experience is otherwise, is a man in whom there is something radically wrong. And the demand for labor considerably exceeds the supply, more in some districts than in others, but generally, throughout Western Canada, and more markedly the further west one goes until, as one nears the Pacific coast, the unskilled laborer is sought after at 12c a day, and the highly skilled worker at more than double that figure.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

The following is extracted from a summary of regulations and recent departmental rulings relating to Dominion lands just issued by the Minister of Interior:

2. The following change in the regulations respecting cultivation duties applies to all homestead entries made on and after the date hereof (June 1, 1908): A homesteader who resides on his homestead is required to break a total of at least 30 acres of his homestead (of which 20 must be in crop) before applying for patent. A reasonable proportion of the cultivation duties must be done during each year.

When the duties are being performed under the regulations permitting residence in vicinity, the total required to be broken will be at least 50 acres of which 30 must be cropped.

In the case of homesteads difficult to break by reason of scrub the area required may be decreased at the discretion of the Department in accordance with the character of the land.

It is generally stated that the C. P. R. are about to build a round house along their line in this neighborhood. Gleichen is favorably located for this purpose and we should not fail to make every effort to secure it. Many years ago Gleichen had a round house but it was moved to Calgary, and from that day Calgary began to grow, while Gleichen stood still for long years—until a couple of years ago. Now, our chance has come again and we must get busy.

Dr. Annie Smith gave a very interesting lecture, accompanied by lantern views in the hall Monday evening, when a good crowd was present. She told of her experiences as a doctor and missionary in India and of the awful suffering among the women of that country for the need of medical treatment. The views were good and the speaker a very interesting lady. Some of the cases she had administered to were extremely sad and painful to listen to.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Sunny Southern Alberta's choicest weather.

The rain is over and our farmers report no damage to crops as feared, and now that Old Sol is again on full shift the prospects for a bumper crop could not be brighter.

The Associated Boards of Trade of Western Canada meet at Medicine Hat on the 18th, 19th and 20th of this month and Gleichen will be represented by two delegates.

Messrs McDonald & Addy have built two cottages west of S. H. Firth's residence, which they will occupy as residences. G. Wakefield has had the buildings in hand and they were put up a little faster than anything yet tried in Gleichen.

Foreman Wright has a gang of men at work building a ferry which will be placed at the point on the Bow where the one went out a week ago. A new cable has arrived for it from Edmonton.

Prof. Campbell's lectures on "Dry Farming" commences at the hour of 2 p.m. at each of the places he is adventuring to speak. The wise farmer will not miss his address in Gleichen on the 26th.

B. S. Halliday of Chesley and E. J. Skelton of Walkerton, Ontario, spent Tuesday in town and found several old eastern friends who were pleased to see them and learn the latest news from Ontario's most famous county—Bruce.

In twenty-four hours ending Friday the rain fall as taken by Canon Stocken at the North Camp Mission was 2.52 inches—a little over two and a half inches. This is said to be the heaviest all known here in the same length of time.

Orders were received last week from the authorities at Edmonton to put the ferry, used on the construction of the Bow river bridge, in shape for public use until a new ferry could be put in its place of the one carried down stream a week ago. A new cable has been sent for the bridge ferry and the Queenstown and Arrowwood creek settlers are now able to reach town.

Miss J. E. Burn returned from Calgary Friday, where she has been for some time building headgear for the ladies of that city. She is an artist in this line, having had much experience in millinery in dear old Ireland, yet she admits she would hardly like to wear some of the articles she recently designed. Miss Burn has accepted a position in F. K. McKay's store and will remain here permanently.

The Call hopes to issue a special Dominion Exhibition number next week of at least 1,000 copies. It will probably mostly to the Calgary fair but some interesting facts of the Gleichen district will be given and it is hoped much good will result. Regular advertise men have all the copies they want to send away upon application to this office and all others may buy them at 5 cents per copy.

A strong and determined effort is to be made at the Associated Boards of Trade convention to induce the Dominion government to exert strong influence with the Indians in securing their consent to the disposal of actual settlers of all such surplus territory that is not required by the Indians. It is pointed out that the money that could be realized from the investment of the amount that could be derived from the sale of the surplus portions would yield more annually in revenue to these Indians than the same land is yielding under the present system. This is quite true, and some estimate that it would yield a revenue sufficient to support all the Indians on the reserve lands.

LANDSCAPE PHOTOGRAPHY.

This is the Most Encouraging Work For the Camera Amateur.

The most encouraging out of door subjects for the beginner in photography are landscapes. The most important point in photographing a landscape is the selection of it; the choosing of a bit of scenery which, when translated to black and white, will form an interesting picture. You must always bear in mind that the beautiful colors which you see in nature and upon the ground glass will not be present in the photograph, which must rely for its beauty upon form and light and shade. When you wish to photograph a landscape, take plenty of time to think about it. After you have chosen your subject, determine the point of greatest interest and then decide whether the picture will look best with this point directly in the center, to one side or toward the top or bottom.

If you live near the spot you intend to photograph, it will pay you to notice at what time of year it is most beautiful. Some landscapes look very commonplace in summer, but make stunning pictures when half buried in the snow. Waterfalls often look best in early spring, because there is a greater volume of water pouring over them at that time than at any other.

A most interesting series of pictures may be made by choosing a beautiful bit of landscape and photographing it from the same point at frequent intervals throughout the year. The first picture, we will say, is taken when the ground and trees are covered with snow, the second when most of the snow is melted and the rest lies in patches here and there and the third when the fields are flooded with rain. After these would come pictures showing the trees in bud, in leaf, in blossom, with fruit and later dismantled with the frosts of autumn.

Window Blinds.

There is no necessity of washing cotton or linen window blinds, as there is a much simpler way of cleaning them. The blind should be spread flat on a table and then rubbed well all over with bread crumbs. This will make it look quite clean and fresh.

Panama Seaports.

Panama has no open seaports except the two railway terminals and Bocas del Toro, the center of a large banana industry, to the north of Colon.

Clothes Closets.

Ventilation of closets is particularly necessary. Clothing kept in an unventilated closet gets a small peculiar to itself—and peculiarly disagreeable. It is the unmistakable advertisement of the surroundings.

Five o'clock Tea.

The English drank tea as long ago as 1657, but 5 o'clock teas date back only to 1842.

Land in Castile.

Land in Castile is in greater part devoted to the production of wheat, and during planting and harvest times laborers, especially reapers, are brought hither from Galicia.

Marble Cleaning.

Marble can be cleaned by rubbing with a rather soft paste made of whiting or prepared chalk and water to which a little ammonia has been added. Rub off afterward with clean water. A rub with pumice stone and water will restore the polish.

Lenses of Life.

Out of every 1,000,000 persons who are born in the same year 213,000 live for 70 years, 107,000 for 80 years and 831 for 90 years.

Toasting Bread.

If bread toasts too slowly on the chaffing dish toaster it may be browned more quickly and evenly by buttering it lightly on both sides. Treated thus, it will not adhere to the toaster, and the flavor is improved.

Plum Pudding.

Plum pudding was originally plum porridge and served for breakfast, not dinner.

Twelve Leafed Palm.

The Egyptians used to use a twelve leafed palm for a Christmas tree because a palm will put forth one new leaf a month, and the twelve leaves were a sign of the complete year.

Mulberry Trees.

From a twenty-year-old mulberry tree 218 pounds of leaves have been picked in a year.

Gibraltar.

In the fortified rock of Gibraltar there are sixty-two miles of tunnels. They are stocked with an ample supply of arms, ammunition and provisions in readiness for a siege.

The Square Deal

What does it mean?
Just this. That the goods must be right and the price also.
It means also that the home merchant, who is more vitally interested in the growth and prosperity of his district than the merchant of the large town or city can possibly be, ought to receive the franchise of his neighbors.
The result is mutual satisfaction, as a fair order will convince.

all orders given personally or by mail.

Every Man's Duty

James J. Hill is quoted with the following observations at a conference held in Washington lately of prominent men in all walks of life:

"Within the last forty years a great part of the richest land in the country has been brought under cultivation. We should, therefore, in the same time, have raised proportionately the yield of our principal crops per acre; because the yield of old lands, if properly treated, tends to increase rather than diminish.
The year 1903 was one of large crops, and can scarcely be taken as a standard. But the average yield per acre was less than in 1872. We are barely keeping the acre product stationary. The average wheat crop of the country now ranges from 12½ in ordinary years to 15 bushels per acre in the best seasons. And so it is all down the line.

"We are rubbing the soil in an effort to get the largest cash returns from each acre or ground in the shortest possible time and with the least possible labor.

"I have endeavored to outline some of the principal issues at stake in the better conservation of our national resources, and especially that one about which all others revolve and by whose fortunes we shall eventually stand or fall —the land itself. They are for us quite literally the issues of national existence.
The era of unlimited expansion on every side, of having but to reach out and seize any desirable good readily provided for us by the hand that laid the foundations of the earth, is drawing to a close.

"The first task, it seems to me, must be to force home the facts of the situation into the public consciousness; to make men realize their duty toward coming generations exactly as a father feels it a duty to see that his children do not suffer want.

"If this patriotic gospel is to make headway, it must be by just such organized missionary work as is today begun.
It cannot go on and conquer if imposed from without. It must come to represent the fixed idea of the people's mind, their determination and their hope. It cannot be incorporated in our practical life by the dictum of any individual or any officer of nation or state in his official capacity. It needs the co-operation of all the intelligences, the help of every voice, the commendation of nation and state that has been the strength and inspiration of every worthy work on American soil for 120 years."

Bomb-Throwing

It is a significant fact that all the men so far charged with throwing bombs, destroying property and endangering life, in the Cleveland street-car strike are foreigners. Some of them are scarcely able to speak English, all of them speak it imperfectly and most of them were born and reared in Southern Europe. And it is this element which is creating a reign of terror in the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Occasionally we hear of an Englishman, an Irishman or a Scotchman showing a reckless disregard of the rights of society and an indifference to life, but such instances only bring out in clearer relief the genius of the people which is for law and order and common justice to all. It is the same with Scandinavian people, the German and the French, all of whom make good settlers and excellent citizens.

And is it not singular that the great corporations of the republic which have had so much experience with the Southern European, the bomb thrower, and the incendiary, should, apparently, prefer him as a worker to the respectable artisan or laborer from Great Britain or the countries of Northern Europe? The immense number of these undesirable peoples which is now to be found in the United States has unquestionably been introduced by the great trusts. And this very class is still being brought in by the corpoations and employed by them in preference to peaceful and industrious immigrants. Neither the peril to which their own property is subjected by such a policy nor the true interests of the country seems to have any effect in altering their course. Under the circumstances should not the Government take it upon itself to legislate not against individuals but peoples—as it does in fact in the case of the Chinese—and say that except under certain circumstances a man to gain admittance to the United States must have been born north of a certain degree of latitude. If it will not be long before Canada will be disgraced by the same evils that the United States is now through the same policy of immigration. The Dominion might join with the republic in an arrangement which would keep all America free of the anarchist and the assassin.—Vancouver Province.

A Successful man: "A man who has made a happy home for his wife and children. No matter what he has not done in the way of achieving wealth and honor, if he has done that he is a grand successor. If he has not done that, and it is his own fault, though he be the highest in the land, he is the most pitiable failure. I wonder how many men in a land pursuit of gold, which characterizes the age, realize that there is no fortune which can be left to their families as great as the memory of a happy home.

Why not borrow your neighbor's spectacles and have a look at your own faults?

Many a man's popularity is due to the fact that he adheres to the truth only when necessary.

Ever notice that almost every one you talk with gives you some information that isn't of any earthly use to you?

The more we give away the more we have, and in order to help ourselves we must advance the interests of others.

Some men run the universe by sitting around a saloon talking, while their wives at home study practical finance and economy by reading the signs on the washboard.

In some parts of Canada man are fined or imprisoned if they work or play upon Sunday. Some men are also imprisoned because they do not work upon the other days of the week.

It was the first vaudeville performance the old colored lady had ever seen, and she was particularly excited over the marvelous feats of the magician. But when he covered a newspaper with a heavy cloth and read the print through it, she grew a little nervous. He then doubled the cloth and again read the letters accurately. This was more than she could stand, and rising in her seat, she said: "I goin' home. This ain't no place for a lady in a thin calico dress."

The late Bishop Coleman of Delaware was somewhat deaf. Once while attending a banquet he was assigned to a young lady who did not know of his affliction.
In consequence conversation was found to be somewhat difficult. In a burst of enthusiasm the young lady enquired, "Bishop, do you like bananas?" At first the prelate did not reply, but upon the question being repeated, he admitted confidentially, "I must say I still prefer the old-fashioned nightgown."

"Are you the defendant in this case?"
asked the judge as he pointed at a negro Quick as a flash Joe was on his feet, and not understanding legal terms, he exclaimed politely: "No, sah, no, sah; I ain't de 'fen'ant; dar's de 'fen'ant ovah dar." And he pointed to his lawyer.
There was a general laugh about the room, in which the queer old judge joined heartily. The dandy was embarrassed and again pointing at his lawyer said:
"Yes, sah; he's de 'fen'ant," and then pointing to himself said, "Is de gent'man what stole de chickens?"

If your neighbor is prosperous, let him prosper. Don't grunt, growl or grumble.
Say a good word for him and let it go at that. Don't be a knocker. No one man is the whole show. If you see Gleichen moving along nicely, feel good about it.
Help things along. Try and get some of the benefit yourself. Don't waste your time feeling sore because some fellow has a little more sand and sense than you have. Do a little rustling yourself.
Don't be a knocker. If you can say a good word, say it like a prince. If you are disposed to say something mean, keep your mouth shut. Don't knock.
No man ever got rich or happy minding everybody's business but his own. No man ever helped himself by knocking his neighbor down. Give a kind word and give it liberally. It won't cost you cent and you may want one yourself some day. If you want to throw something at anyone throw a kind word.

Perhaps, now the Irrigation Co. will feel better.

J. A. Renaud was up to Calgary last week on business.

Advertising is like anything else. To make a success of it you must keep at it.

The fishing season is at hand and already some very fair-sized stories are abroad.

With such a bright prospect for good crops every person in Alberta should feel cheerful.

There is nothing like touching a man's pocket to get him interested in anything.

What is the matter with the Rifle Association? It is about time the regular shoot was announced.

While boosting for Gleichen don't forget we still want the Agricultural college and we must have it.

W. S. Gowan arrived last week from Chicago to visit his son George, who is ranching north of Red Deer river.

The heavy rain of last week caused a portion of Mr. Larkins' cellar to cave in and for a time it threatened to undermine the barber shop.

The raise in taxes this year promises to have the effect of making some of our ratepayers take more interest in the election for next year.

While Gleichen can boast of no great lakes or rivers close to town, we can at least claim to be free from floods, and it rounds good when we hear of the trouble in other towns.

It is safe betting that Jim Dillon knew nothing of the potato famine. If he had every Irishman would have had a visit from the genial James, for he would never see his countrymen in want.

The Blackfoot Indians are holding dances regularly a couple of miles south of town and are preparing for the Sun dance. They aim to end the dancing toward the end of this month and then journey to Calgary to attend the Dominion Exhibition, when they will return home broke financially. At present there is plenty of work for the Indians and their teams and it is a great pity that some means cannot be found to make them work.

The elections in Ontario resulted in a big sweep for the Conservatives, while in Quebec the Liberals came out away ahead. Thus both parties have reasons for rejoicing and lamenting. The latest advices state that in Quebec 53 Liberals were elected, 16 Conservatives and Nationalists, 2 Independent Liberals and three constituencies to hear from. In Ontario the Conservatives captured 87 seats, Liberals 18 and Labor 1.
